

Walworth County TOASTMASTERS

Volume V, Issue 2

February 2010

FUN, FUN, FUN
Walworth county Toastmasters recently sponsored their club level Table Topics contest. The winner from this contest will go on to compete in the Area contest.

Club members who courageously competed in this contest include: Bruce Bradshaw, Kelly Poessehl, Don Deller, Steve Rotier, and Bente Goldstein. Each contestant did a great job! Congratulations to each of you.

Winners of the contest were: first place, Don Deller, and second place runner-up, Bruce Bradshaw.

Table Topics gives club members the opportunity to practice speaking extemporaneously. Questions do not require any previous knowledge of a topic. Rather they are situational or opinions that are personal and individuals can speak to them in any way they choose.

Bruce Bradshaw being asked the Table Topics question by Barb Pajor.

The question posed to contestants by Barb Pajor, VP Membership, was: "You have been given the opportunity to design and produce your own television show, prime time. What would this show be about and why?"
